

EXPERT ADVICE:

What to do when you're pulled over for a DUI in Utah.

License and registration.	You need to be able to produce them without fumbling for them. If you have trouble, they'll talk about it in trial.
How much have you had to drink tonight?	If they smell alcohol on your breath, saying you weren't drinking hurts because a jury will think you lied. But, admitting you drank a lot hurts your case too. If you don't know how many drinks you had, say so.
Please step out of the car.	Put both feet on the ground firmly, and step out. Stand up straight. Remember, everything you're doing is being watched.
I need you to put your feet together, put your hands by your side and follow the top of my pen.	Politely tell the officer, "I'm sorry, I'm not going to take any field sobriety tests," and keep saying that over and over and over. These tests are designed to send people to jail.
You're under arrest.	When you're under arrest, keep your mouth shut. People always say things they shouldn't. Don't talk your way into a conviction. Remain silent, ask for a lawyer.
Do you agree to a breathalyzer?	Refusing to take a chemical test can result in an 18 month suspension of your license. But don't think that because you pass a breath test you're going to be free to go. Refuse if 3rd DUI.
If you didn't perform field sobriety tests at the scene, they'll ask you again.	You have to refuse again. They're not going to let you go. They're trying to gain more evidence to use against you at trial.
You spent the night in jail. What's next?	If you fail (a breath test), it's a 120-day suspension. If you refuse, it's 18 months. Regardless, you can fight these.
